TERM 2

WEEK 2

COMPARATIVES

*We use comparative form to compare and contrast different objects in English.
We use the comparative form to show differences between two or more objects.

EX: Life in the country is healthier than life in the city.

This is how we construct comparative forms in English.

*If the adjective has only one syllable, add '-er' at the end of the adjective.

EX:	cheap	cheaper
	clean	cleaner
	cold	colder
	small	smaller

*If the adjective which has only one syllable ends with a consonant after a vowel, double the final consonant add '-er' at the end of the adjective

EX:	hot	hotter
	big	bigger
	fat	fatter
	sad	sadder
	wet	wetter

*If the adjective ends with “y”, drop the “y” and add “-ier”

EX:	funny	funnier
	dirty	dirtier
	easy	easier
	funny	funnier
	happy	happier

*If the adjective has two or more syllables, add “more” before the adjective

EX:	beautiful	more beautiful comfortable	more comfortable
	interesting	more interesting

*We use the word than after the comparative if we mention the person or thing we are comparing.

EX: A Volkswagen Polo is cheaper than a Ferrari.

Antalya is hotter than Çeşme.

Cem yılmaz is funnier than Şahan Gökbakan.

This chair is more comfortable than the other one.

*A few adjectives in English have irregular comparative forms.

EX: bad	worse
good	better
little	less
much/many	more
far	farther

ROSS: Hi Terry. This is my best friend Jenny.

TERRY: Hello Jenny. Nice to meet you.

JENNY: Nice to meet you, too.

ROSS: Jenny lives in the country. You want to move to the country; I thought Jenny can help you with the questions in your mind.

TERRY: That's great. Do you have time Jenny?

JENNY: Sure.

TERRY: Great. Do you like living in the country?

JENNY: Of course, I do. The country is quieter than the city.

TERRY:	I'm sure about that. I think the country is safer than the city.
JENNY:	You're right. Don't forget that the people in the country are friendlier.
TERRY:	That's great. Is life in the country slower than life in the city?
JENNY:	Of course it is. Life in the country is slower, cheaper, healthier and cleaner than life in the city.
TERRY:	Thanks a lot Jenny. Are there any houses for sale in your area?
