

WEEK 11

QUANTIFIERS

We studied A and An (Week 4), Countable and Uncountable (Week 6), There is / Are (Week 6), Some and Any (Week 6) previously. You can go over these topics from your materials before you start this lesson.

MUCH / MANY

Many and Much express a large quantity. We use many with countable nouns, while we use much with uncountable nouns usually in negative and in question forms.

Examples: (-)

There isn't much sugar in the kitchen.
There aren't many people in the streets.
He doesn't have much time.

Examples: (?)

Is there much rain in Istanbul?
Are there many books in your bag?
Do you have many CDs?

Many is occasionally used in positive sentences.

I have many postcards.
There are many students in the class.

HOW MUCH / HOW MANY

We use "How many" with plural countable nouns, while we use "How much" with uncountable nouns in questions.

How many eggs do you need?
How many sisters do you have?
How much butter is there in the fridge?
How much money do you spend a month?

A FEW / A LITTLE

A few expresses a small quantity with countable nouns in positive sentences.

I have a few close friends in town, and we have a very good time together.

A little expresses a small quantity with uncountable nouns in positive sentences.

We have a little milk. Let's make a cake.

A LOT OF

Quantifier "a lot of" is used in all forms. Instead of A lot of, we can use lots of. Lots of is an informal form of a lot of.

Example sentences:

There are a lot of bus stops in Kadıköy.

Are there a lot of students in the classroom? Yes, there are.

There is a lot of milk in the bottle.

Do you know a lot of people there?

She has lots of chickens on the farm.
