TERM 2

WEEK 4

PRESENT CONTINUOUS TENSE

We use the Present Continuous Tense...

- a) to talk about what the subject is doing at the moment.
- b) to talk about temporary actions. (Something different than we normally do)
- c) gradual changes in the present time

We use the Present Continuous Tense with action verbs only. (We don't use Present Continuous Tense with stative verbs like think, love, remember, want, know, wish, have, etc.)

Match these sentences with the definitions above.

- _____ 1. I normally have coffee for breakfast, but today we don't have any coffee left, so I'm drinking orange juice.
- _____ 2. That's great Larry! Your English is getting better day by day.
- _____ 3. I'm in the kitchen now and I'm cooking lasagne for tonight's dinner party.

In the Present Continuous Tense we use verb "to be" as a helping verb in all sentences, (affirmative, negative, questions) followed by VERB ing.

AFFIRMATIVE

I	am	doing my homework now.
You	are	listening to the teacher.
He/She/It	is	playing outside.
We	are	making a cake for our Mom's birthday.
You	are	studying Present Progressive at the moment.
